Call Before You Dig!

Before digging a hole for your new tree, call 811 at least two full business days ahead of time to have underground utility lines marked. Once you know where the lines are, plant at least 18 inches away, taking into account the tree trunk's mature diameter.

Plan Before You Plant

If you're planting a tree near an overhead powerline, consider the tree's mature height and its distance from the powerline before you plant. Visit NorthWesternEnergy.com for more planting tips.
